Too Much Liquor Brings Big Fine

Owner Of Lumberlost Lodge Had 25 Bottles Of Whisky And 113 Pints Of Beer.

On the night of Sept. 30th, Provincial Constables Bowen and Priest of Grimsby and Budd and Paoh of St. Catharines raided the Lumberlost Lodge on No. 20 Highway and seized 25 full bottles and two part bottles of whisky and gin, all but two bottles of which was American liquor. They also secured 113 pints and four quarts of beer and ale.

Russell Fowler, 34, operator of the Lodge appeared in Magistrate Campbell's court in St. Catharines on Friday morning last charged with illegal possession and was fined $250 and $24 costs. The booze was ordered confiscated and the place declared out of bounds.

Has Fine Record

Pte. Eric L. McMane, 21 years old, son of W. L. and Mrs. McMane, Mountain Road, Grimsby. Enlisted with an 48th Highlanders and has spent three Christmases overseas and holds out hope of being home for this Yuletide. While enroute to Sicily the transport he was on was torpedoed by a German Sub. He and four comrades reached a raft and were adrift for five hours before being picked up and finally landed in Africa, losing everything but the clothes they were wearing. He has taken part in the battles of Sicily and Italy in the transport driver covered while a transport driver covered 15,000 miles without an accident of any kind. He is now serving as a clerk in the Central Registration office of the 1st Canadian Infantry Brigade, of the 8th Army. In letter-press his deep gratitude to "Cammy" Millard and the citizens of Grimsby for the many welcome cigarettes he has received from them through the Cigarette Fund.

G. F. HANNING PASSES AWAY

Was One Of The Best Known Civil Engineers In The Province—Was In Grimsby For 17 Years — Was Hydro Electric Pioneer.

A long and useful life was terminated on Saturday afternoon when George F. Hanning, well known Civil Engineer passed away suddenly at his home, The Anchorage, in Clarkson.

George Forest Hanning was one of the best known and best liked men of his profession in the province. He also was a pioneer in engineering, had been with Canadian Pacific railway in the early days and later with the Mackenzie and Mann Interests when the Canadian Northern was laid out and constructed.

During the days of the late Sir Adam Beck when the Hydro Electric was being given birth and nurtured in its infancy he was closely associated with the "Great Power Knight" and was the engineer in charge of location and survey for the whole of south western Ontario.

He later joined the Ontario Department of Highways and prior to coming to Grimsby was Chief District Engineer of the Western half of the province.

He came to Grimsby in 1926 as Chief Engineer of Residency No. 4 and remained here until the office was removed in 1943. Shortly after that he retired from active service.

His health had not been good of late but his passing was not expected by his legion of friends throughout the Dominion and will be greatly regretted by all.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon.

Hallowe'en Comes But Once A Year

Next Tuesday night the witches, hobgoblins and Grimsby kids will scamper and caw in all kinds of grotesque costumes to their hearts content. It is hallowe'en and once again the big parade will be a feature of the night's festivities. The parade will form up on Main east at the Gmsby garage and headed by the High School Cadets band, and Band Sgt. Wally Phipps will parade to the Arena where the judge for many beautiful prizes will take place. This year there are 21 prizes for as many classes of costumes and a grand sweepstake prize for the most outstanding entry in the parade.

THE ROAD AHEAD

(By a Grimsby Boy in Italy)

I've hugged my belly to the ground while regiments of big guns stood up hub to hub and split the night with flame...

I've felt the earth quake under a tidal wave of tanks that rolled out of our lines and engulfed the enemy and smothered him
and beat him down into the ground...

I've seen the sky blacked out by a thousand bombers' wings... and heard it cracked wide open by the thunder of their bombs...

And yet... through the ruins of war, I've seen the road ahead.

Out here I've seen the power of Canada at war, the might of freeborn men who work and fight to keep their freedom.
And I believe this power to destroy can be the power to create.

And looking down the victory road I see a new Canada...

I see new cities rising up... new farms...
new roads, new homes, new schools...
new factories that will plan and build for peace the way they planned and built for war.

I see a place for me, and for the kids I'll have someday... a place for every man...
a future to look forward to... a job to do...

I see a chance to live and grow in a stronger
Canada...

After we've won the war...

While we're winning the peace!

MAGNIFICENT PARTNERSHIP

Back, at the dawn of the century, in 1900, things were different. The average factory worker earned then $334.00 per year.
Low pay, wasn't it? Indeed it was! I remember, before that, when we remodelled our barn, the wages of a carpenter were $1.00 a day but "Dad" gave him an extra ten cents. He said: "He was a man one could always trust".

I recall the old cobbler, making a pair of shoes. Capital didn't get much out of that business. The investment wouldn't exceed $10.00. He didn't carry much stock. He bought enough leather, at one time, to make two or three pairs of shoes. Wages are paid out of production. They always are. There was no outcry then about the "money barons",
nor the bankers, no one to tell the workers
how the "big fellows" crushed the life out of the "little man". They didn't. Without capital to increase production the pay of the worker must be low. This happens when there is no capital seeking investment, or when men are afraid to invest their earnings.

Then began the new era, production per man moved up. It stood at $1,418.00 per worker in 1900. I do not need to cover the intermediate span of the years. The figures are available in the Canada Year Book for one who wants to look them up. In 1939, near the outbreak of the war, production had risen to $5,280.00 per worker—quite a difference isn't it? The worker was then earning $1,120.00, this of course is an average of all workers. Real earnings will continue to increase as productivity increases—
that is the basis of high earnings.

It was the machine which increased production. Without it we would still have been producing at the 1900 level. Capital provided the machines. Something was coming to the partner who had increased his investment. Labor did not get all the gains which arose from the increased volume of production. How much did labor get?

In the production of any factory product
there are a great many costs which have to be taken into account. There is light, fuel, power and general expense, interest maintenance, depreciation etc., then there are the raw materials which enter into production.

The compensation received by the worker in 1900 represents 23.6% of the value of the product produced. As new capital was added, new machines installed, the worker received a smaller percentage share of the product produced, for if he received the same percentage as he did before, there would be nothing to provide for capital—in that case no capital investment would take place. In 1939 the percentage going to the worker—that is to say the percentage proportion of the product produced, the amount which he could buy back with his wages, was 21.2%, instead of 23.6% as it had been in 1900.

We may now restate the position of labor in a few words. When the worker produced in 1900, goods valued at $100.00, he received by way of compensation—$23.60. In 1939 he produced, in fewer hours, and under better working conditions, $378.00, and he received for this $80.14, instead of $23.60.
This represents the improvement in the condition of the worker since 1900 an improvement due mainly to increased use of machinery. It has been indeed a magnificent partnership—for labor.

A LESSON FROM THE PIONEERS

Mr. Donald Gordon of the Wartime Prices and Trades Board warns us that even though the war situation looks brighter, we must still curb our spending and do without.
To our forefathers this was an art that needed no war to instill.

Here is a description of furniture given by a pioneer himself: "A bedstead, roughly hewn out with a felling-axe, the sides, posts and ends held together in screeching trepidation
by strips of basswood bark; a table that might be taken for a victual's chopping block; four or five benches of the same rude mechanism."

And what of the house into which they put such furniture? It was made of logs fourteen to sixteen feet long, notched at the corners sufficiently deeply to hold firm and not leave too much space between to be filled with mud and moss or wedge-shaped bits of wood. In one of these four walls a doorway was cut in which they could hang a blanket, if they had one, or an animal skin. As for the roof—this might be made of elm bark.
Since they had no nails, the pieces of bark were tied with withes to pole-rafters.

Don't run away with the idea that the pioneers were content with this rugged discomfort. One of the housewife's greatest ambitions was to possess an iron cooking-stove so that she could give up cooking at the open fireplace. The smoke, by the way,
might go forth through a hole in the roof,
that is, if they had no clay or stone to make a fireplace with chimney.

And what did they use for sweeping the floor? A cedar or hemlock broom made by tying a flat bundle of boughs to a handle and trimmed broom-shape with an axe; or for stronger work, such as cleaning the rough wooden floor, they made a splint broom of green hickory, splintering one end with a knife.

COMFORT IN THE COACH

Men folks immediately will grasp the idea of Pullman-Standard's recently announced postwar overnight coach seats which will enable the passenger to "stretch out" for a comfortable sleep on seats designed to tilt
"way" back like a barber's chair.

We can't speak for the women folks, but we assume that there must be some wonder-ment among them when they see a man
shak himself down into the tilted cushions, blow out a deep breath of contentment, and close his eyes as the barber begins to lather up.

Pullman Standard describes it as "chaise-longue" sleeping comfort, if that helps to put across the idea as to how the new seats will function. Oh, in case you're interested the window draperies will be converted into curtains at night, separating each pair of seats and roviding each passenger with a semi-private compartment.

So far so good. But to assure us of all this sleeping comfort, what are the postwar plans for keeping those coach conductors from asking us up for our tickets all through the night?

If people would take some of the time they spend in complaining about defects in the home town, in improving their own home places, it would help the cause of progre.

This sign appeared in a window of a clod Chinese laundry in Los Angeles:

Uncle Sam, he put me in khaki,
Soon will give Jappy plenty whacky.
Teach bums lesson in Nagasaki,
God bless America, by cracky!
Bring home Tojo in haversacky,
So keep shirt on till I come backy!

THE WOODPILES OF OLD

LAST week we spent a day in a part of Ontario entirely new to us, but which brought back vivid memories of a once familiar sight in every home, in every town and village and farm in this part of Huron.

It was the long forgotten woodpile. To be sure, it was a sparsely settled district, but every habitation had about it somewhere, what seemed to us, a fabulous pile of wood, cut and dried and piled ready for winter use, in a part of the country where they really have a winter every year.

The leaves were turning and the air was crisp at night, but not a householder was looking anxiously at his coal bin and wondering what he would do if the coal man failed him. In fact, these people's acquaintances did not include a coal man, and they were even less acquainted with his products.

There are a lot of people who can still easily remember when conditions were exactly the same in this part of Huron. Back to the days when the district farmers would cut the next winter supply of wood the winter before, and at the same time mark
out the older trees in the bush lot on every farm, which would be cut sometime between now and next spring for fuel a year later. And the surplus would be sold to householders in the towns and villages.

Woodpiles were rotated like crops and the wood lay drying in the sun of the spring and summer until the sap was dried out, the cells dried and through the cracks that developed the sun would sink deep into the heart of the wood. Then when fall and winter came there were no damp, smoky fires, but the kind that crackled and spluttered and dispensed a heat that made the interior of the house feel like a hot day in summer.

No doubt it meant work for our grandfathers, and lots of it. But experience and practise seemed to make it easy. It must have been healthy work too, cutting up the trees with a crosscut saw, or even a bucksaw, into cordwood and stove lengths, in the fine clean smell of maple and beech, that permeated the air. And even if it was hard, it must have been satisfactory work as no man could look at his growing piles of wood without a feeling of security for himself and family, no matter what the coming winter would prove to be, back in the days when there were no steam or hot water heating plants, and no furnaces, and there was no coal dealer at the end of a telephone wire.

Too, the wood always paid a double dividend. It heated the cutter twice—once when he cut it, and again when he burned it. And as every man owned a saw and an axe and a strong pair of arms, there never was a fuel shortage known to exist.

Perhaps we have gone a long way and learned a good deal since those days, but the average man has lost a good deal too, in the old-fashioned way, that filled the woodshed and overflowed out, without thinking of the cost or the fuel controller either.

THE OLD HOME

O wandering, wandering feet,
Turn now and wander home;
I've followed you far o'er moor and glen,
But now I long to go home.
Back to the lawn inside the old gate,
To the old apple tree's pleasant shade;
To the unpainted door, the old kitchen stove,
To the scrubbed-white deal table, home-made.
I'd see the old clock on the wall-shelf again,
I'd drink from the mug at the spring;
I'd stretch out once more on the old home-made couch,
I'd hear the old dinner bell ring.
I'd walk through the orchard among the old trees,
I'd wander around the old barn;
I'd pet the old horses and cows in their stalls;
I'd lead them to drink at the 'tarn.
I'd harness the team as I did years ago,
I'd drive them out to the plow;
I'd try once more a straight furrow to make,
Again wipe the sweat from my brow.
I'd work all the day till the sun went down,
Just to see how much I would tire;
I'd come in after dark my supper to eat,
There smoke by the old fire-
Then off to my bed, creaking rope bed;
On its straw tick, the blankets I'd creep,
And never wake up till the five o'clock bell
Called me back from the best land of sleep.

THE GIRL OF TO-DAY

You have my sympathy, little girl,
The men don't like your clothes,
Nor your hair combed over your pretty ear—
Poise fun at your powdered nose.
I know that your grandma wore a train
And she swept the sidewalk clear.
And the men they sneered, and the men they growled
Men always have, I ween.
But she went right on in her own sweet way,
Just as you do, my dear,
And she mopped up measles and typhoid germs,
And scattered them everywhere.
When she put on bustles and big hoop skirts
The men folks jeered and mocked,
And when she banged and bobbed her beautiful hair
Strong virile men were shocked.
So you're just as sweet as your grandma was—
And she was winsome and true—
And you'd look like sin if you dressed like her—
And she wouldn't have dressed like you!
Her heart was clean and her soul was white,
And her fair fame stands, undimmed,
For it's not the cut of your gown that counts—
It's the way your soul is trimmed.

Farming looks nice—from a car window.

I don't know o' nothin' better 'n a woman if you want to spend money
where it'll show.

"I see the battle-fields of the earth...grass grows upon them
and blossoms and corn..."

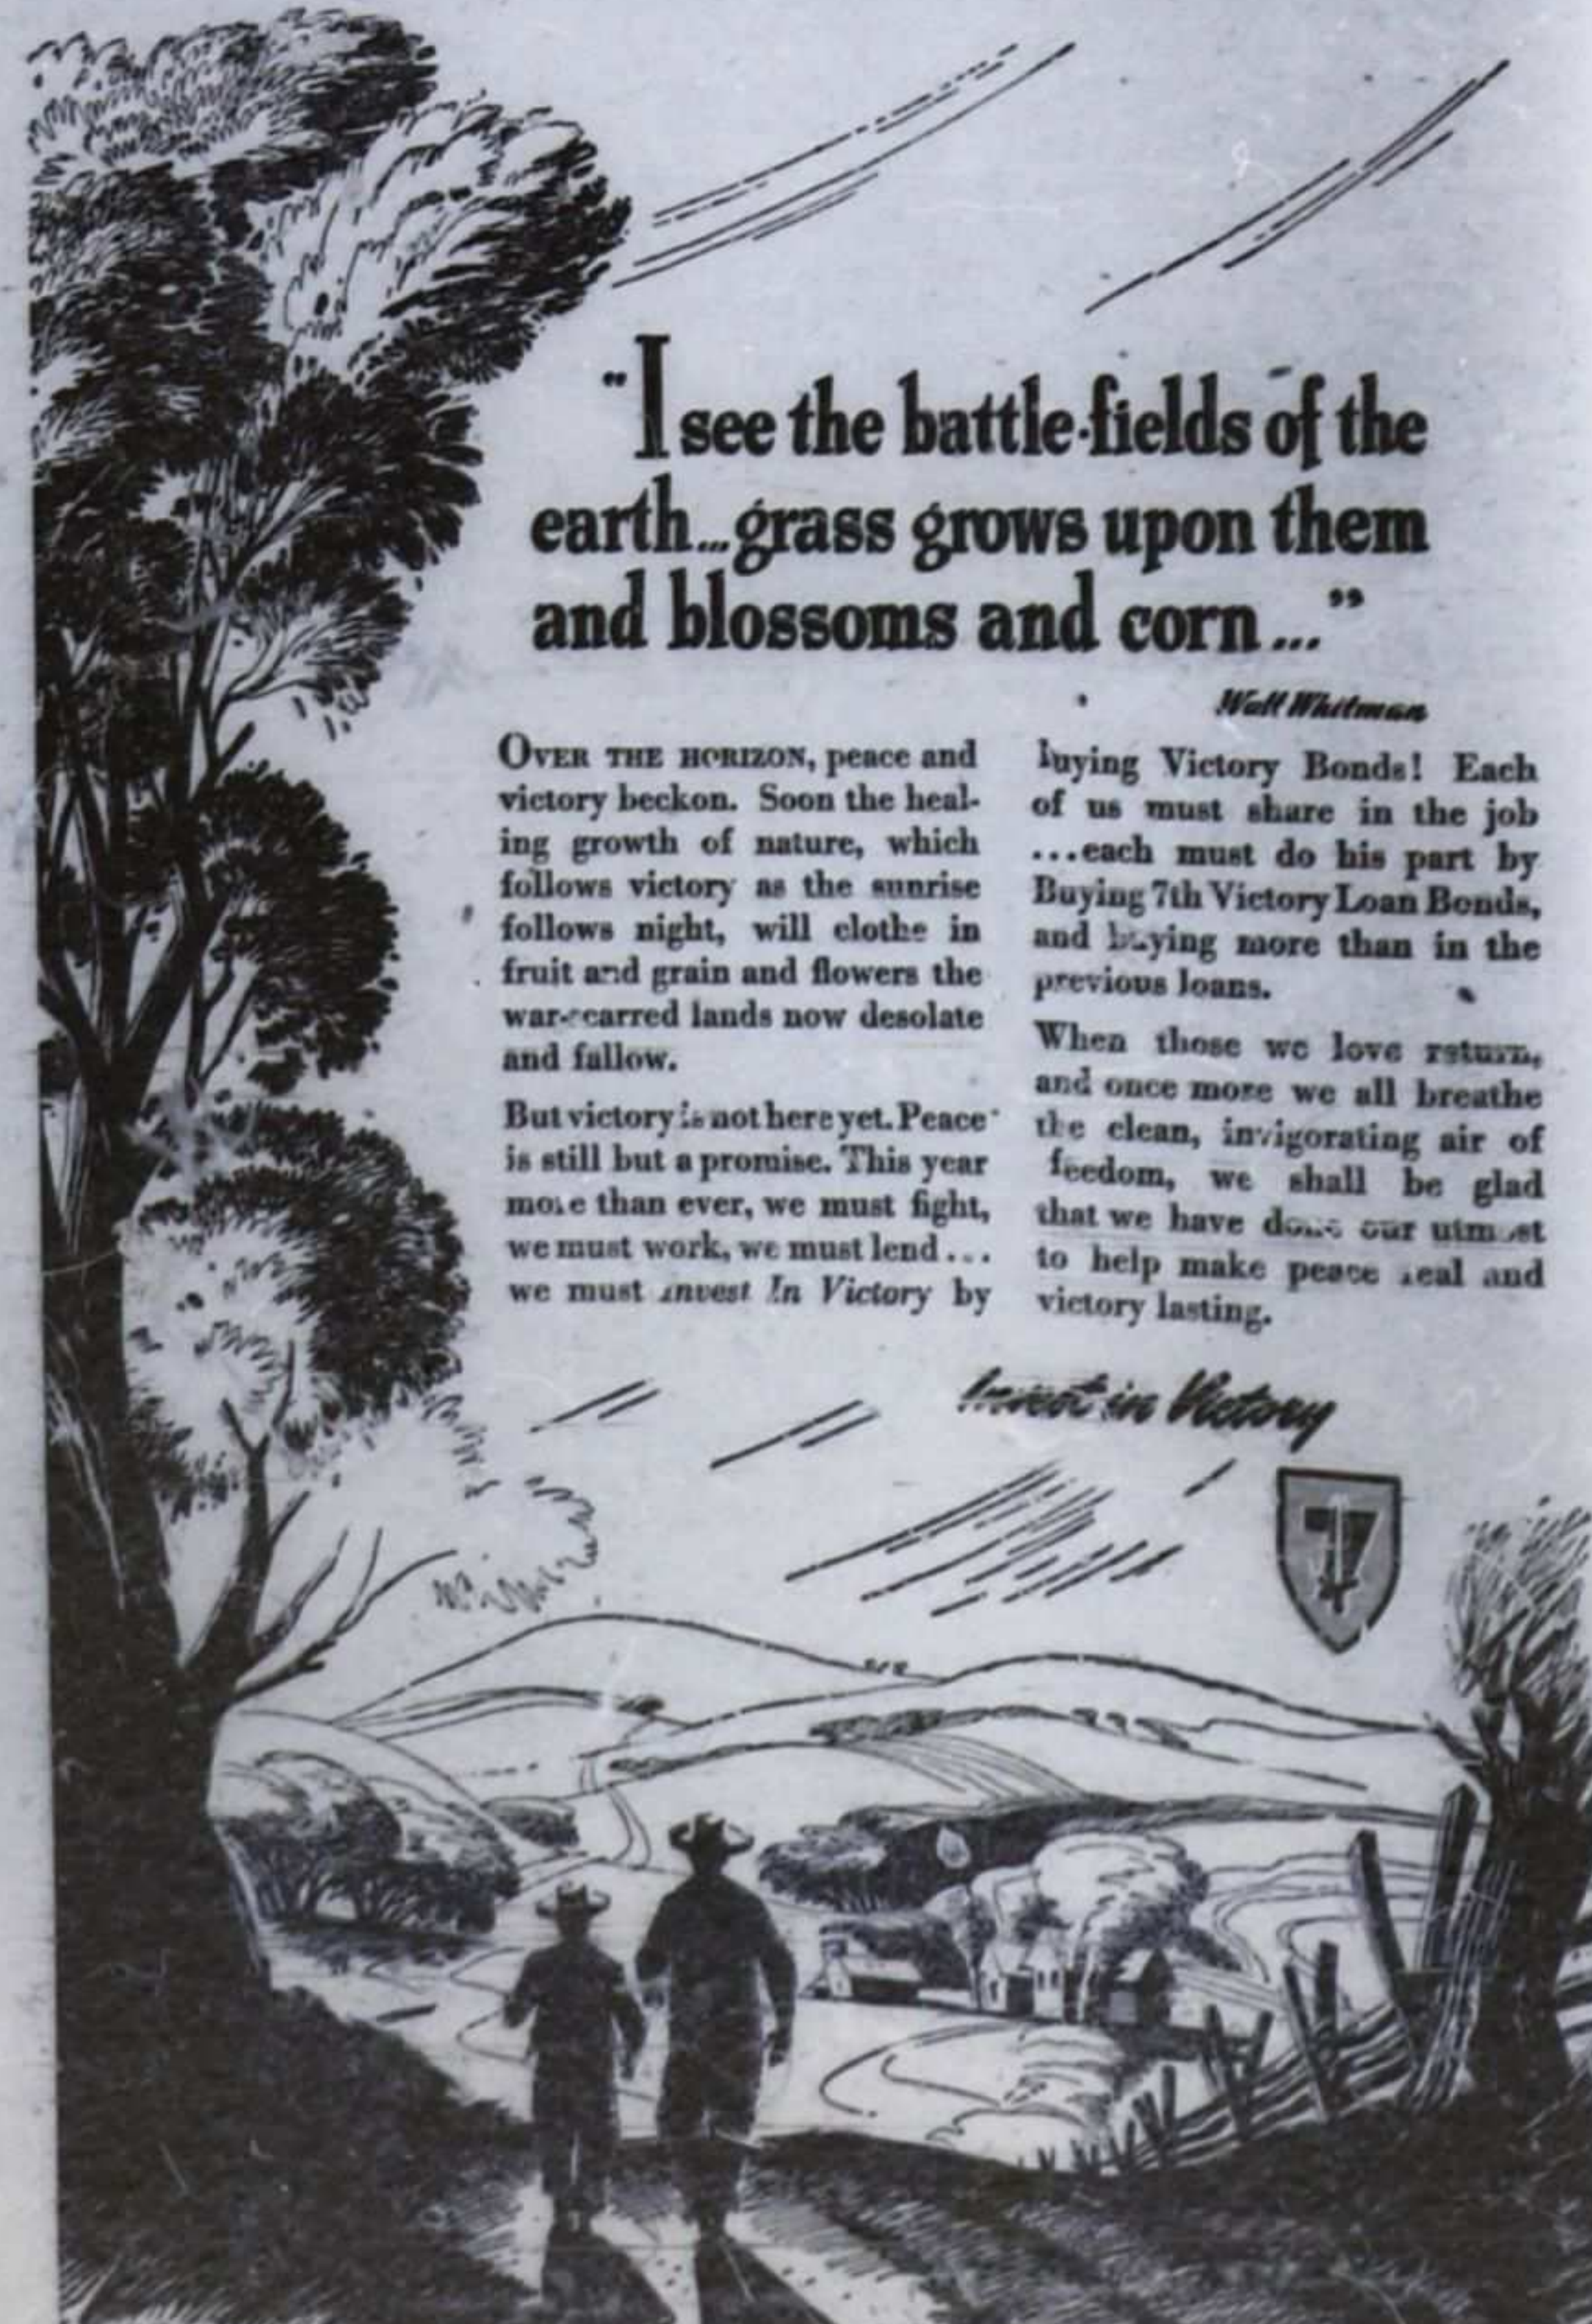

Walt Whitman

OVER THE HORIZON, peace and victory beckon. Soon the healing growth of nature, which follows victory as the sunrise follows night, will clothe in fruit and grain and flowers the war-carred lands now desolate and fallow.

But victory is not here yet. Peace is still but a promise. This year more than ever, we must fight,
we must work, we must lend...
we must invest in Victory by buying Victory Bonds! Each of us must share in the job

...each must do his part by Buying 7th Victory Loan Bonds, and buying more than in the previous loans.

When those we love return,
and once more we all breathe
the clean, invigorating air of freedom, we shall be glad that we have done our utmost to help make peace real and victory lasting.

Eleanor Roosevelt And Frances Dewey

One of the biggest changes that will come over the White House if Thomas E. Dewey is elected President will be the supplanting of Eleanor Roosevelt by Frances Hutt Dewey.

Maybe not one voter in a hundred will consider which woman he favors when casting his ballot for President on Nov. 7, yet behind the candidates hover two women pursuing entirely different paths of life. Hewing to the line of being seen and not heard, Mrs. Dewey reached the zenith of the campaign when she accepted an armful of flowers in her home town of Sapulpa, Okla., without making even a "thank you" speech. Mrs. Roosevelt, on the other hand, has gone right ahead holding press conferences, writing a newspaper column, and making non-political speeches, sometimes involving political issues.

The two are not in the least critical of each other. At a Chicago press conference immediately after her husband's nomination, Mrs. Dewey made it clear that Mrs. Roosevelt has a perfect right to act as she does but said it just wouldn't be in her to do such things in the White House.

This week at a White House conference, Mrs. Roosevelt refused to be trapped into saying Mrs. Dewey's kind of life would be impossible in the White House today.

"People have to be themselves," was all she said.

As a matter of fact, Mrs. Dewey, with ex-newspaperwoman Irene Kuhn as her publicity aid, has been more in the limelight than were any of Mrs. Roosevelt's predecessors. On the very trip across the country, she readily consented to be interviewed by newspaperwomen, but has been careful to avoid discussion of public issues. Mrs. Dewey reads her husband's speeches before they are delivered and often makes corrections or suggests additions, especially to add appeal to women. She has not decided whether she will hold press conferences if she moves to the White House.

As one who has covered Presidents' wives activities since Mrs. Coolidge, I would say that Mrs. Dewey, in Washington, would find herself entering public life to a greater extent than she or her political advisors apparently contemplate. Even Mrs. Hoover kept three secretaries busy, though her only outside interest was the Girl Scouts. That was before Mrs. Roosevelt. In the last 12 years, a good many folks in all stations of life have become accustomed to addressing the President's wife on a variety of subjects. Nowadays they write chiefly about the welfare of their sons and sweethearts in the armed forces. Columns may end, but this flood of mail will not be suddenly shut off if Administrations change.

Many women have become accustomed to look to Mrs. Roosevelt for leadership. It is well known in Washington that most of the women sent to the peace table to date through such conferences as UNRRA and the Food Conference have gone through her personal efforts.

On the other hand, it is wrong to assume that women will revert to a 1932 norm if Eleanor Roosevelt leaves the White House. She herself has just pointed this out in referring to the "freer feeling" among women—even housewives—and they have more responsibility in public affairs than 25 years ago.

Twenty years ago, at a similar age and stage in life, Mrs. Roosevelt was still making her children her primary job, as Mrs. Dewey is today. The two are not today in situations where their interests and activities are really comparable.

It is true that Mrs. Roosevelt is endowed with an action-seeking sympathy for the downtrodden that may not be repeated in a President's wife this generation. Her attention has been chiefly to so-called submerged classes—to the Negroes, to youth, to the handicapped and, yes, to women. She has not hesitated to enlist political aid and influence. This has in turn drawn upon her attacks rarely leveled at a First Lady.

Persons who object to her friendliness with certain groups would solve it by having her "stay home." Others resort to jokes that poke fun at her looks or her energy.

Ridicule of the President's wife has no place in a political campaign, but honest discussion of her activities has. And the public is bound to take a lively interest in comparing her role with the more retiring one Mrs. Dewey has chosen. — Mary Hornaday, in Christian Science Monitor.

THE MIXING BOWL

By ANNE ALLAN

Hydro Home Economist

Hello, Homemakers! There'll be no spoonin' about helping mother if you tell the children that they may have a quota of fresh doughnuts to be made for Halloween eve.

The children may do lots of jobs such as sweeping, dusting and running errands while mother makes the fritters. The hot fat, used for cooking, is too dangerous for the children to work with and mother has to be Johnny-on-the-spot while doughnuts are being made.

Here are a few good recipes:

CREAM DOUGHNUTS

1 egg, slightly beaten, 1 egg yolk, slightly beaten, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 tsp. heavy cream, 3/8 cup milk, 1/2 tsp. lemon extract, 2 cups bread flour, 1 tsp. salt, 3 tsp. baking powder, 1/4 tsp. nutmeg. Add sugar slowly to eggs, add cream, milk and extract. Sift flour, salt, baking powder and nutmeg 4 times, and add to first mixture. Shape and fry. Makes 18 to 20 doughnuts.

RAISED DOUGHNUTS

1 cup scalded milk, 1/4 yeast cake dissolved in 1/4 cup lukewarm water, 1 tsp. salt, 1/2 cup butter and lard mixed, 1 cup light brown sugar, 2 eggs, 1/2 tsp. nutmeg, 2 cups flour.

Cool milk to lukewarm, add yeast cake in water, salt, and flour enough to make stiff batter. Let rise overnight. Add melted shortening, sugar, eggs, nutmeg and flour. Let rise again. If too soft to handle, add more flour. Turn on floured board, pat and roll 1/4 inch thick. Cut out with biscuit cutter and work between hands until round. Place on floured board, let rise 1 hour, turn, and let rise again. Fry.

CRULLERS

5 tbsp. sugar, 1 tsp. salt, 1 cup scalded milk, 2 tbsp. lard, 1/2 yeast cake dissolved in 2 tbsp. lukewarm water, 3 cups flour. Add sugar, salt and lard to scalded milk. When lukewarm, add dissolved yeast cake and 1 cup flour. Cover, let rise until light, and add 2 cups flour. Turn on a slightly floured board and knead. Cover, again let rise, and knead; repeat. Pat and roll 1/4 inch thick. Cut in strips 8 inches long and 1/4 inch wide. Put on board, cover and let rise. Twist several times and pinch ends together. Makes 24 to 30 crullers.

CHOCOLATE DOUGHNUTS

1/4 cup butter, 1 1/4 cups sugar, 2 eggs, well beaten, 1 1/4 squares melted chocolate, 1 cup sour milk, 4 cups flour, 1 tsp. soda, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1/4 tsp. salt, 1 1/4 tsp. vanilla.

Cream butter and add gradually, while beating constantly; then add eggs, melted chocolate, sour milk, and flour, and sifted with soda, cinnamon and salt. Add vanilla and more flour to handle. Shape and fry. Makes 30.

TAKE A TIP

Do's and don'ts for shaping doughnuts are:

1. Use only one-third of dough at one time. Put it on a lightly floured board, knead slightly, pat and roll out 1/4 inch.
2. Use 2/3 lard and 1/3 beef suet dripping for fat or vegetable fat.
3. Use a fat thermometer or drop an inch cube of bread into hot fat; if it is golden brown in 40 seconds, fat is about 390 degrees, and if in 60 seconds, at about 370 degrees.
4. Put a small number in at a time to prevent lowering temperature.
5. Doughnuts should come quickly to top of fat, brown on one side, then be turned to brown on other. Avoid turning more than once—(except sour milk doughnuts).
6. Keep electric element on high or medium, which ever holds constant temperature. If too hot, the doughnuts will brown before sufficiently risen. If too cold, doughnuts will absorb fat.

The worst inflation came AFTER the war the last time . . . to be followed by disastrous deflation, unemployment and confusion. For Canada to manage successfully the change back to peace, maintain employment, and meet the world's competition . . . we must continue to have stable economic conditions. To protect the individual from rising costs of living and later unemployment we must continue to prevent inflation.

To prevent a repetition of the conditions following the last war

The Canadians came back. Back to the beaches where so many died. Back to the quiet cemetery where they now lie buried. Through two long years of working and planning, their determination to avenge Dieppe never faltered. Now, with Victory in Europe in sight, Canada's Seventh Victory Loan is our opportunity to see that we, like them, know how to see a job through.

FOURTH FIGHTING ARM CANADA'S MERCHANT NAVY

Since the outbreak of war ships Canada's Merchant Navy, manned by Canadian merchant seamen, have been shuttling back and forth to the United Kingdom and other war fronts of the world. They have helped in the all-important task of transporting tanks, vehicles, aircraft, vital war materials, munitions and other supplies required to build up the huge reserves which have made possible the concentrated and sustained weight of the allied attacks in Normandy, Italy, Burma and other fronts. Likewise, Canada's contribution to Russia under the mutual aid agreement has played no insignificant part in the remarkable advances by the Russian armies on the eastern European battlefield. All such commodities have had to be transported across the Atlantic or Pacific in the face of concentrated attacks by enemy submarines and bombing aircraft. Men of this un-uniformed service have doggedly maintained these lifelines, shared in the evacuations of Dunkirk, Greece and Crete, aided in the establishment of beachheads in Mediterranean war theatres and pushed through to northern Russia.

No records are yet available as to the participation in the invasion of Normandy of Canadian merchant vessels. Nevertheless, some Canadian merchant seamen serving on United Kingdom merchant vessels undoubtedly have taken and still are taking part in these operations as they did in the invasion of North Africa, Sicily and Italy. All seamen serving on such ships were invited to volunteer for invasion duties. The identity certificates of such volunteers were endorsed with the letter "V" and every man who was given the opportunity offered his services to the tremendous task of D-day sniping operations.

The volume of Canada's contribution to the allied merchant navies can only be appreciated when it is realized what one of Canada's new merchant vessels—and there are now more than 100 in active operation—can carry in one trip. One ship, for example, left a Canadian port loaded to the plimsoll line with enough motor transports to equip one battalion of infantry; several thousand tons of vital war materials including enough aluminum to manufacture 640 fighter aircraft; 1000 tons of bombs; enough food to feed an army of 25,000 for one week; lumber for re-building damaged areas; and a few landing boats chained to the deck.

Canada's men of the Fighting Fourth Arm give no quarter and ask none from either weather or enemy. They suffer untold hardships in order that munitions and supplies get through to the fighting fronts and to civilian populations.

You can help build the morale of these men mightily by seeing that each and every one receives a well-filled Ditty Bag for Christmas. The cost to you is small but the man who receives it treasures it like gold.

Drop in at Navy league headquarters and arrange to fill one or more Ditty Bags or better still call Mrs. "Buddy" Shafer at 205 and tell her of your intentions.

Frederick Johnson, above was appointed president of The Bell Telephone Company of Canada at a recent meeting of the board of directors in Montreal. He succeeds Charles F. Rife, president since 1925, who has reached the retirement age of 70, and who continues as chairman of the board. Mr. Johnson has been vice-president in charge of accounts and finance since 1935.

CANADA'S VETERANS Their Post-War Opportunities

The third in a series of advertisements to inform the people of Canada of plans to re-establish men and women of the armed forces. To get full details, save and read every advertisement.

For complete information, write for the booklet "Post-War Life."

Training and Education— Doorways to Opportunity SOCIAL SECURITY MEASURES

In planning Canada's re-establishment program, its framers worked with one principal idea in mind. This was that the only answer to the problem of permanent re-establishment is a job, and that the surest way to get and hold that job is by the skill necessary for it.

VOCATIONAL TRAINING

Every ex-service man or woman who will be assisted in re-establishment training is eligible to have it. There is provision for paying fees for all courses and, in addition, the ex-service man or woman may receive maintenance grants up to:

- $30 monthly if single;
- $80 monthly for a man and his wife, together with children's allowances.

This training is available for the period of service to a maximum of one year, but can be extended beyond that period, if necessary, and if service is more than one year.

EDUCATIONAL TRAINING

This is available to all who are admitted to university within 15 months of discharge and, as in vocational training, fees are paid and there are maintenance allowances up to:

- $60 monthly for a single man;
- $80 monthly for a man and his wife, together with allowances for dependent children.

These allowances will be continued on a month for month basis of the time in the services, providing all examination are passed. Outstanding students may have assistance continued to completion of the course.

SOCIAL SECURITY MEASURES

Under the re-establishment program Canada's veterans who, within 15 months of discharge from the services, become ill or unemployed may draw maintenance allowances up to $50 if single and $70 for a man and his wife, together with children's allowances. The out-of-work benefits are for those fit and able to work, but for whom there is no work immediately available. In the case of serious illness there is free treatment and hospitalization for any condition in the year following discharge.

As a further security measure, every veteran who enters insurable employment is entitled, after 15 weeks in that employment, to unemployment insurance credit as though the whole period in the services since July 1, 1941, had been spent in the insurable employment.

VETERANS' WELFARE OFFICERS ARE STATIONED IN KEY CENTRES THROUGHOUT CANADA. THEY ADVISE AND ASSIST EX-SERVICE PERSONNEL, AND SHOULD BE CONSULTED ON ALL PROBLEMS.

MRS. AITKENS RE-MAKE REVIEW

Mrs. Aitkens presented her re-make review in Trinity Hall, Friday evening to an interested audience. Many and varied were the effects obtained by making over men's suits to women's, curtains to dresses and evening gowns to negligees. One particularly gay garment was a child's dressing gown made from the tops of old socks appliqued with bright coloured threads to grey flannel after the pattern of a crazy quilt. Mrs. Aitkens told an interesting story regarding this colourful gown which contained a small boy in one of the nursery schools in England. He had been bombed out and was homeless, parentless and seemed to have lost the power of speech and the ability to think. But, when one of these gowns was given to him he pointed to one of the patches and said, "My daddy had a pair of socks like that."

Miss Joan Eaton entertained very capably at the piano prior to the appearance of Mrs. Aitkens.

The models — Jerry Bowen, Ruthie Baker, Bobbie Hillier, Ruth Lindensmith, Cynthia Harrison, Joan Harrison, Judy Baxter, Mrs. Belle Wilson, Barbara Klock, Doris Dipper, Marilyn Millyard deserve a great deal of credit for their performance for from the wee ones to the tall ones all did beautifully.

The meeting closed with the National Anthem, after which Mrs. Sutherland and her committee served a dainty lunch.

The next meeting, which is the Health meeting, will be held at Mrs. Caton's Robinson Street 8, on Tuesday, November 21st.

SHIPS

This is the Song of the Ships—

Of little ships and mighty ships,
Of bollards, and stanchions, and cleats,
Corvettes, cruisers and submarines,
Sweepers, and fishing fleets,
Of blazing guns—of tankers grey,
Of heat, and the smoking stacks,
Of pain and toil, and smothering oil,
And the wake in the zig-zag tracks.
Of charts, and shoals, of thundering waves,
Of watch in the morning grey,
Of rocks — and ice, of fog, and mines,
(For our men live hard to-day).
Of hawseers and tugs, of carrier-craft,
Torpedoes, and screaming shell—
Of turbines throb, and crowded raft
And men on the ocean swell.
This is the Song of the Ships—
And you, who sleep so sound o' nights,
Do you wake, and think of these?
Little ships, and mighty ships,
And men on the wind-swept seas!

Won't you please fill a Ditty Bag.

There is a new navy calculator that solves difficult problems in seconds. We wonder if it will keep a job from confusing telephone numbers?

Kids Raised $34.00 For Cigarettes

Cigarette Fund benefitted greatly on Saturday from the sale of pie pumpkins and other vegetable produce that the kids from the west end of the town conducted in front of the Post Office.

They had a nice display of goods and netted $34.28 which has been turned over to "Cammy" Millard.

The kids who conducted this vegetable market were Peter Phelps, Merritt, Anderson, Allan Bentley, Bunny Kemp, Carine Shantz and Donna Marsh.

Last week Col. Ramsay sent home from Nova Scotia a basket of claims right from the Atlantic and these have been donated to the Cigarette Fund and are now on view in Bett's butcher shop where draw tickets can be purchased and the proceeds will go to the fund.

Practical Joker
Gets Two Months

(St. Catharines Standard)

Police believe they have put a stop to a series of "false alarms" which have been telephoned to headquarters over the past several weeks with the sentencing of Walter Strain, aged 21, Marquis Street, to two months in the county jail.

Strain was convicted of a public mischief charge of giving false information to the police.

Fast work by Sgt. Frank Jarvis in conjunction with the Bell Telephone Co., resulted in Strain being nabbed "in the act." Tuesday night the police sergeant received a telephone message that a Geneva street store was being burglarized.

Suspicious that it was another false alarm, he checked the origin of the call through the telephone supervisor.

Advised that it was coming from the N.S. & T. Terminal at least two blocks from the supposed break-in, Sgt. Jarvis, dispatched a police radio car to the terminal and then held the telephone caller in conversation until Constables Wm. Watson and Wm. Francis arrived at the Terminal a few minutes later. There they found Strain still in conversation with Sgt. Jarvis and brought him to headquarters.

Strain is said to have admitted at least four such false alarms, ranging all the way from street bravos to fire thefts.

GRIMSBY CITIZENS

In the local district 11, 911 books were issued according to figures provided by Armand B. Hummel, Secretary of The Board. This is 314 more than were issued last March when 11,597 were handed out.

In Grimsby and North Grimsby the residents secured 4,070 books, an increase of 222; in Beamsville 1,702, an increase of 163; Clinton township, 2,159, a decrease of 138; South Grimsby, 1,521, an increase of 103; Gainsboro, 1,590, a decrease of 26; Caistor, 869, a decrease of 1.

INDUCTION SERVICE

Following the induction, a reception was held in the church hall, a highlight being a presentation, made on behalf of the congregation, by R. J. Colpitts, to Colonel and Mrs. W. W. Johnson, who are leaving Grimsby to reside in Northern Ontario where Col. Johnson is commandant of the Northern Area M.D. No. 2.

On behalf of the Mission Band, of which he was president a presentation was also made to Walter Johnson, jun., by Miss Kathleen Ossichuk.

Mrs. R. D. Colpitts and Mrs. Arthur Norton poured tea and Miss Vanetta Shuert sang.

county at the first of the year agreed to subsidize the Federation by one-fifth of a mill on the county rate. This amounts to a little less than $4,000 and is paid to the Federation as required.

After considerable discussion and legal consultation, council authorized an agreement to permit Arthur Lambert, Lakeshore Road, Louth Township, to lay 1,000 feet of two-inch water main along the county road, an extension to the existing main.

A resolution of condolence was passed to Reeve and Mrs. J. Goodman Pettigrew, South Grimsby, who received word last week that their son, Louie Pettigrew, had been killed in action on the western front.

training, they are all front line troops not long out of action, where these Base fellows can practice any old time at all.

Rome itself is a really beautiful city, never saw such marvellous buildings and monuments. Shall never forget the Cathedral of St. Peter and the old coliseum and Victoire Emmanuel Monument. No places in Canada can compare to it all.

Well the two Warner boys came around the other day and we really had a long chat, how everything was back in the old home town. Old "Gamecock" hasn't changed a great deal in all these years. He sure had some good stories to tell about. Both looking very well and wish to be remembered to you.

Well I hope you can find a place in your old Book of Sports for this program, thought you may like to have it for future years. Now best of luck, Bones old boy. Cheerio, and hope to see you again. Soon.

As ever,

GRIMSBY BOY HELPED

only man we lost on our entire two tours, our mid-upper gunner, was mortally wounded on our first trip. On our second visit we took fire just over the target, but managed to get back to base safely. On other Hamburg trips we were held 50 to 75 times by enemy flak."

With the exception of one gunner, he told the entire two tours were completed by the same crew and, incidentally, a D.S.O., five D.F.C.'s, a Bar to the D.F.C. and two D.F.M.'s, have been awarded to that one bomber crew.

"On all our trips over enemy country," he said, "we were only attacked by fighters once and in that instance our mid-upper gunner was credited with a 'possible.' We had a thrilling experience that time when a Halifax, flying less than one hundred yards from us, was hit by a enemy fighter which came up underneath. Its gas tank exploded and the whole sky was lighted up as bright as day. We were watching the crew bale out and it took us about 15 minutes to realize we were sitting there like a lame duck, brightly lighted and a perfect target for other fighters. Believe me, we got out of there in a hurry and headed for the darkest spot in the sky we could find."

Speaking of robot bombs, he told of a rather amusing experience he had in London. Staying overnight at a well-known hotel there, he left at a call for 7 o'clock in the morning and at exactly that hour he was awakened by a terrific noise. Looking out the window, he saw the street filled with flying debris from a bomb that had exploded the country, especially on he was presented with several baskets of choice Grimsby fruit avoided by Jas. Aitchison of Niagara Packers and Harold C.olverton.

It was an informal vi, but as Mr. Wilson was in this season of Ontario, and having had evous correspondence with May Johnson on business matte, he just stopped off to say "he do you do."

ports that for the first three of the campaign the salesmen making fine progress.

A special feature of the campaign is the drawing that will take place at the finish of the loan drive for two $50 Victory Bonds. These bonds are bought and paid for by the salesmen and the members of the loan committee. Every person who purchases a bond has a number. Those numbers will be placed in a drum and drawn for. The first two numbers out of the drum win the Victory bonds.

On Monday noon next, Councilor Wm. Mitchell of North Grimsby, the Dean of all Lincoln county municipal officials and the grandfather of boys fighting at the front, will go on the air over CKTB, St. Catharines, at 12.15 noon, to tell the people of Lincoln county, particularly those of Grimsby and North Grimsby, just why they should buy Victory Bonds.

It is up to you folks. The boys over there are doing their bit. You do yours.

$10,000 Granted To Sanatorium

Hon. Charles Daley, M.P. for Lincoln, announced Friday that the Ontario Government and Hon. R. P. Vivian, Minister of Health, had approved a grant of $33,500 to the Niagara Peninsula Sanatorium at St. Catharines. The Government previously had granted $37,000.

The extension planned several months ago would cost about $180,000, but a generous offer by the Davelle Mills Foundation prompted the board of governors to expand their plans to a $270,000 addition. The Mills Foundation set up by the late David B. Mills, former St. Catharines resident, offered a grant up to $75,000. The foundation would give $7,500 for every $3,000 raised by the board. Municipalities of the peninsula have pledged $48,000 and industry and other groups have been generous.

Your Victory Loan Salesman Has This Letter

IT ENABLES YOU TO BUY VICTORY BONDS THROUGH YOUR BANK ON CONVENIENT DEFERRED PAYMENTS

The Manager

Dear Sir:

I enclose application form agreeing to purchase (for value) of 5% Seventh Victory Loan Bonds to which is attached cheque for an initial payment of $

I promise to pay you the balance of the purchase price plus accrued interest at 3% per annum within six months from the date of this letter.

Yours very truly,

Fill out the Letter and attach it to your application—it is an order on your Bank to buy Bonds for you.

You have Six Months to Pay the Balance for the Bonds—The Interest the Bonds Earn Pays the Bank Interest on the Loan. No further security is required.

● You say you want to do all you can to help Canada's war effort. Then you will keep on buying Victory Bonds. You will buy all you can.

You recognize the obligation that we, at home, owe to our men overseas. You know that stocks of munitions which our fighting men need are being depleted and must be replaced. You know that more munitions must go forward—and you will buy Victory Bonds to help pay for them.

You would like to be able to buy more bonds, you say. Well here is how you can do it. You can buy more bonds with money as you get it. Any bank will loan you the money to do this and the interest on the bonds will pay the cost of the bank loan. All you have to do is to sign the letter shown here—which you can get from your Victory Loan Salesman. You make a first payment of 10% or more when you apply for the bond, and pay the balance at any time over a period of six months.

You will be doing an important war job when you do this. You will be helping your country and backing up her fighting men. You will get another reward, too, that will benefit yourself. You will have money, later on, when the war has been won—to do things you plan to do—money to improve your farm and your home.

MATINEE — Sat. 2 p.m.

All veterans of this war who are entitled to gratuity from the government, may obtain application forms from George Wheeler, Secretary of the Canadian Legion, at the Post Office.

Three big nights of fun and frolic are guaranteed to all who attend the Grand Bazaar at the St. Mary's church on Grimsby Mountain Top. There will be a grand drawing for 15 prizes and many other attractive features.

Friday, October 27, is the 88th anniversary of the arrival at Toronto of the first through train from Montreal. It ran over the lines of the Grand Trunk Railway, now part of the Canadian National System.

The drawing for G. I. Brad, the Soldier Bear has been advanced one week and will take place at the matinee in Moore's theatre on this Saturday afternoon, October 28th. If you have not purchased a ticket on the draw you better do so now in this way help to fill a Ditty Bag.

Dave Bell, sales manager of T's Metal Craft Co. was in Toronto all last week with a fine display of hospital equipment at the Dominion Hospital Convention and exhibition at the Royal York Hotel. The Metal Craft exhibit was acclaimed the finest that has ever been shown in Canada.

Good old "Scotty" McKay. He always comes through in the clutches. He was in town for two hours on Tuesday and it cost him $5 an hour. Just another one of his $10 contributions to the Cigarette Fund. If we had a few more like "Scotty" then "Cammy" wouldn't be doing so much worrying over those Christmas packages.

Sam and Mrs. Hunt, now residing in Brantford have received word that their son Dispatch Rider Clifford Hunt is in hospital in Italy with his leg in a cast from the hip down due to a twisted knee. Another son Pte. Robert Hunt who was slightly wounded some months ago has been promoted to the rank of Corporal.

Fruit season is over. Growers are all cleaned up and so are most of the shippers. Niagara Packers shipped their last car of grapes last week and another week will see the finish of the pear grading and shipping at the Arena. Canning factories have finished Bartlett pears but expect another four or five weeks' run on Kieffers.

Bitten on the leg by a dog while running across a field on Saturday, Robert Ellis, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ellis, Grimsby Beach, will be confined to bed for some days. Dr. L. W. Henry, who attended, described the wound as being about an inch and one-half long and fairly deep. The dog is being kept under observation for the required length of time.

The Boys Overseas are thinking of home and of Christmas. The Independent received its first Yuletide Greeting card last week. It was from Pte. W. E. Farrow, now overseas four years and having married over there. He sent greetings from himself, wife and little son Maurice. He was an employee of Gordon Hannah at the time of his enlistment.

Agent of the Canadian National Express in St. Catharines for about 23 years, Charles G. Hudson passed away Monday his 79th year. He was express agent at Winona for five years prior to his appointment at St. Catharines. He retired in 1933. Mr. Hudson was born in England. He is survived by a son, Howard Bermuda; two daughters, Mrs. Harvey Secord, St. Catharines and Kit, Hamilton.

A number of applications for membership were received from returned personnel of the present war at a meeting of West Lincoln branch of the Canadian Legion on Wednesday evening. Fred Jackson and E. S. Johnson were delegated to make arrangements for the annual Armistice day service in Grimsby in conjunction with the I.O.O.F. The Grimsby service will be on Sunday, November 12, while the Beamsville service will be on the 11th.

David Williams, 75, first honorary life member of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association and editor of the Collingwood Enterprise-Bulletin for the last 25 years, died suddenly Saturday after suffering a heart attack at his home. Late Mr. Williams in 1941 was chosen by the Editors of Ontario's weekly press to be the man honored by the University of Toronto with the Doctor of Laws. His father, the late William Williams was the founder of the Bulletin which later his son amalgamated with the Enterprise. Editor David and the late Jas. A. Livingston and Mrs. Isabella Livingston all went to Collingwood Collegiate together when the late Wm. Williams was Principal.

Many a half-baked idea results from the desire for more dough.

How's your aim? Are you very good at getting bulls-eyes or even the target? They say that practice makes perfect... some G.H.S.ers ought to be pretty good after Saturday's drilling. You folks that didn't go missed a nice long five mile ride!

Friday night's reception went over big. The programme being exceptionally well complemented by the parents. You'd think second formers would be past the nursery rhyme stage wouldn't you? The impromptu dance after wasn't had either, especially the solo dance by "poppa and his daughter."

Speaking of dancing the class in that subject is progressing favourably. The toes of the girls shoes are going to be spared from now on I hope.

Have you got your costume ready for the Hallowe'en Dance? Don't forget it's on Friday night not Tuesday.

The "unbeatable" Rugby Team played a good game last Friday, their opponents being from Ridley. The G.H.S. team didn't have much practice... that's one of the many reasons for the score! This Friday we play Ridley at St. Kitts, and are going to trim them. We hope.

The Commencement date has been changed from Nov. 24 to Nov. 17.

The boys didn't exactly appreciate last week's poem so here's one:

I think that I shall never see
A girl refuse a meal that's free,
A girl without a pensive look
At some poor guy she'd like to hook.
A girl who doesn't always wear
A crazy hat upon her hair?
Who doesn't always complain
'Bout going out in snow and rain,
But gals are loved by boys like me
'Cause who the heck would love a tree?

Cubbing

Peter Phelps led in the grand howl when the cubs and their leaders gathered around the totem pole on Friday evening, Oct. 20th. Gary Scott received his guide and house orderly badges from Akela and Peter Bromley his collector's.

A lively game which combined bean bag tossing, rop, jumping and book balancing was entered into with great enthusiasm. The red six were the winners in this contest with the white a close second. The cubs then gathered around the camp fire where for the benefit of the new chums Akela told them how cubbing came into being. They were very interested to learn that after the boy scouts were formed the younger boys clamored so insistently to belong to a similar movement that the late Lord Baden Powell organized the wolf cubs taking for his guide Kipling's Jungle Book. Akela complimented the cubs on their fine showing on apple day and said he was proud of each and every one. Douglas Kelterbourn led in the mouse call.

On Monday evening, Oct. 23rd, the Pack met again at the high school with the scouts to take part in a "going up" ceremony, when five cubs were taken from the cub circle by cub leader Cyril Mote and led into the scout home shoe. The boys were welcomed by Scout Master James Baker and A. S. M. Donald Pettit and the several Patrol Leaders. The boys who were thus promoted were, Sr. Sixer Peter Phelps, Merritt Anderson, Clifford Schwab, Leslie Walters and Allen Bentley. Mr. Mote told the boys that they would be missed in the cub circle but were to be congratulated on going a step higher. Allen Bentley was presented with his second star before leaving the pack which entitles him to a leaping wolf badge.

Prizes were presented for the apple day awards as follows:

Best average, Dick Tracy; best basket, Pat Ryan; second best basket, Bobbie Herd; best salesman, Allan Bentley.

Before the pack dispersed the Rev. Mr. Watt spoke a few words of encouragement and congratulations to the boys and their leaders.

Fur Dealer Is Heavily Fined

Commenting that the public is at the mercy of fur dealers and are entitled to be protected, Magistrate J. H. Campbell, Friday fined Louis Steinberg, proprietor of Louis Hudson Furs, 144 St. Paul St., St. Catharines, $250 and costs, on charges under the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to which Steinberg pleaded guilty.

The two charges which Steinberg admitted were that he had advertised furs without clearly stating immediately following the fur trade name the correct name of the animal from which the fur was taken, and failing to stipulate on sales slips and garment tags the correct name of the animal from which the fur was taken. Cases were stated such as Coney which is dyed rabbit.

Inspectors of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board reported to the Magistrate that in May, 1943, they had checked the stock of furs and discovered 60 cases which were violations under the W.P.T.B. and at that time had warned Steinberg that he must comply with the regulations. As a result of a second check in August of this year the charges were preferred.
